

Saam Studio

Saam studio was established to house a cultural and artistic club for the Iranian community in England, while providing a rehearsal space for theatrical activities for Iranian and non-Iranian artists at a charitable

Between 2002 and 2005 Saam Studio successfully staged a large number of plays, seminars, lectures and other cultural activities from both within and outside the Iranian community.

Unfortunately the studio's success worked to its disadvantage and its activities which had gained such a good reputation amongst artists and the culture loving community, were seized as the local authority found it too busy for a residential neighbourhood.
